Boehling Allows but Five Hits and, Although Wild, Is Effective—Fred Falkenberg Knocked Out of Box-Score, 6 to 3.

By WILLIAM PEET.

With twenty or more members of the Cleveland team yelling like wild Indians from the Naps' dugout, and attempting to get Southpaw Joe Boehling's "goat," the Richmond Thunderbolt yesterday gave them all the laugh, and spanked the "Birmys" good and proper to the tune of 6 to 3.

"All he's got is a button-hook curve and nice hair," chortled Joe Birmingham, from one side of the diamond, while Doc Johnson, the Naps' initial sacker, from the opposite coacher's box, shrieked: "You fresh busher, we're goin' to knock you loose from your cap in this

Boehling paid no attention to these poisoned verbal shafts. The more the visitors raved, the harder he pitched, and that under such trying conditions the youngster

The Climbers' victory was quite satisfactory to the Old Fox, for his judgment in Boehling's ability to come through has been vindicated, and the win gives the Nationals the series by three out of four. Up to date Washington and Cleveland have met eight times, each team winning four games.

Boehling did not pitch the best game of ball ever seen in the concrete colineum. He had one bad inning, the fifth, and walked an even half dozen, but he only yielded five hits, and when Larry came up in the eighth with the bases full and the Nationals only two runs behind, the southpass was good enough to retire the Frenchman for the necessary third out.

"He is the most improved ball player I have seen in one year's time, and in a couple of seasons I believe will be the leading second baseman of the country." Thus spoke Larry Lajoie, of the Naps, of Ray Morgan, Griff's watch charm infielder.

inities among the Griffmen, and his fielding since his recent injury has been brilliant.

Lajole continued. "Morgan's fielding has improved 25 per cent over last year, and at the bat I believe he is one of the most danigerous hitters in the league. He never offers at bad balls, knows just what to hit, and makes his hits count. His speed on the bases is also a valuable asset. He is the best-looking kid who has broken into the American League as a second baseman in recent years. "Morgan would not have been described by Larry at Ray-Morgan would not have been described and the best of the second baseman in recent years." The compliment came from Lajole unsuight and the foregoing statement was made during a fanning bee at the Hotel Bellevie yesterday morning.

A peculiar play was made on Mc Bride when he scored from third on Boedling's "Cincinnati base hit in the second liming of yesterday's game. The throw to the plate from Larry was wide, but Land caught the ball near the base path and made a stab at the Washington captain as Mac sprinted past. George ducked out of the way cleverly and escaped being tagged by inches only. The Cleveland players sent up a mighty howi, claiming that McBride should have been declared out for steping outside the base paths, but Umpire Dineen could not see it that way, and the majority of the spectators agreed with the ump.

Harvard and Yale to Bettle

Ebbetts Field.

Cambridge, Mass. June B.—Arrangements were made today for the playing of the final game between the Harvard and Yale baseball toams at Ebbetts Field, in Brooklyn, N. Y., on Saturday. The Crimson team triumphed over the Yale outfit in the fourteenth inning yearday by the score of 4 to 3, after a thrilling battle, which was staged in the presence of 20,00 Harvard rooters. Sam Felton, the red-headed Harvard twitter and football star, allowed only seven hits and struck out fourteen Buildogs in the fourteen innings.

Cardinals Meet Interior.

The Interior team, of the Departmental League, will journey over to Alexandria Saturday for cross bats with the atrong Cardinal A. C., of that city. Manager Kayai of the Interiorities, will use Gray and Pollock as his battery, while the Cardinals will stake their chances of victory on Burgandine or Cox and Jones, and from all indications this game should prove interesting from the start. Sunday the Cardinals will play the National A. C., on Jones Point, at 2:30 o'clock.
